

Riven Earth

Riven Earth release their third Album

„The World Is Turning“

The new opus of Günter Schlünkes, Wolfgang Beckers and Uli Krücken will hit the high street at mid-Oktober.

These three guys played in different other bands before they decided to a launch studio project.

The follow up of „Project One“ and „Space Of Time“ deals with the current affairs and their effects on social life.

Uli remembers:

We had many parts and ideas that we tried to arrange over and over again. I had a lot of work concerning about the problem how put words and music together. According to famous concept albums from Genesis, Pink Floyd or the Neal Morse Band I was searching for a central topic which also appeared in the songs. After two pandemic years, environmental catastrophes and political lunacy I knew:

Whatever happened to us, the world is turning.

This Topic helped us to put the things together and reach our common claim. Never before mankind had to overcome so many changes in such a short time span. But at the end we found it was wonderful symbiosis including the presentation of all this.

Günter agrees:

Well, I shot a lot of photos for us and of us and in the end it was the fabulous Willgard Krause and her ideas, who offered us the crucial proposals.

Concerning about the music of our newcomer I came to the question: What comes next after an epic like „Space Of Time“?

The answer was easy at last: Another epic album.

But after all I knew it would be difficult to exceed the two releases we did before. So the suspense is killing me how successful the third one could be. Night after night I played new parts on the guitar and rearranged and mixed the whole thing over and over again.

But despite of all the different styles and genres it sounded all of a piece.

Wolfgang added:

Right from the start I knew it would become completely different. The classic sounds of „ Space Of Time“ was gone and instead of it we developed a diversity of styles. It took us two years to bring the stuff together, but we had to decide that some parts must be new arranged, cut back or had to disappear completely.

As always, we present a piece of high Quality in music and sound.

We hope you enjoy it too!

You can meet us at www.riven-earth.com, where you will find different possibilities to get into our music.

Although you can order a physical copy of our new album!

